

Watchers Productions presents: Deliver Us From Gee

On Saturday April 11th 2020, Watchers Productions released Deliver Us From Gee, the seventh in their ongoing short film anthology series Strange Tales.

Deliver Us From Gee, written by award winning playwright Matthew Fisher, is co-produced by Watchers Productions and Dramatic Moose Productions, which stars the talented Gareth David Lloyd (Torchwood, Black River Meadow, Warehouse 13) in the title role.

James is on his own for the night, as his girlfriend is away. He orders pizza, which is delivered by a cheery delivery man named Gee. When a delivery mix-up means Gee gets fired, James takes pity on him and invites him in. But when James asks Gee what his real name actually is, he gets a response he really wasn't expecting...

Directed by Rhys Jones (Winner of Best Sci-fi Short: New York City International Film Festival), Deliver Us From Gee was filmed in November and December 2019, with pick-ups taking place in January 2020. The script upon which the short film is based was written several years ago, so any similarities to current world events are strictly coincidental.

Filmed entirely in Cardiff, Jennifer Higgins, Samuel Rush, and Deaf Actress Stephanie Back are just some of the local Cardiff talent that show off their skills.

Along with the other films in the collection, Deliver Us From Gee can be viewed via the Strange Tales YouTube channel, and the Watchers Productions website.
